

To Whom It May Concern,

Last night's Super Bowl half time show was deplorable. Not only did Janet Jackson expose her breast, but the men repeatedly touched their genitals and the dancing girls were in lingerie. This is so typical of the broadcasting that you are allowing now. Please take responsibility for the children in our nation whose parents do not turn off the television, as I did, and begin to enforce regulations that clean up broadcasting. My family was so dissapointed not to be able to watch the Super Bowl to completion as we have in years passed.

sincerely,

Laura Barber
